

Privacy Policy

Last Revised on Jan 13, 2023

Introduction

At Origins Web3 LLC (“Company” or “We”), we are committed to protecting the privacy of our users. We offer marketing and development services through our website origins3.io and in order to provide these services, we collect certain information from our users. This privacy policy explains what information we collect, how we use it, and how we protect it.

This policy applies to information we collect on the Website. It does not apply to information collected by:

us offline or through any other means, including on any other website operated by Company or any third party (including our affiliates and subsidiaries); or any third party (including our affiliates and subsidiaries), including through any application or content (including advertising) that may link to or be accessible from or on this Website. Please read this policy carefully to understand our policies and practices regarding your information and how we will treat it. If you do not agree with our policies and practices, your choice is to not provide information on the Website. By giving such information, you agree to this privacy policy. This policy may change from time to time (see Changes to Our Privacy Policy). Your continued participation after we make changes is deemed to be acceptance of those changes, so please check the policy periodically for updates.

Site/App Owner Details

Our website is owned and operated by Origins Web3 LLC, with a registered office at 30 N Gould St. Ste R, Sheridan, WY, 82801.

Information Collection

We collect a variety of information from our users, including:

- Personal information such as name, email address, and phone number
- Demographic information such as age, gender, and location
- Behavioral information such as browsing history and search queries
- Information about the device and network used to access our website
- Information provided by the user while availing our services
- Information that you provide by responding to queries related to the Website.
- Records and copies of your correspondence with us.

We collect this information through a variety of means, including:

- Directly from the user, such as through registration forms or contact forms
- Automatically, such as through the use of cookies or tracking pixels
- Third-party providers, such as by integrating with other platforms like social media or using analytics tools

Information Use

We use the information we collect to provide our services, which include:

- Customizing the content and layout of our website to better suit the user's preferences
- Providing personalized marketing and advertising to the user
- Improving our website and services based on user behavior and feedback
- Communicating with the user about our services and promotions

We may also use the information we collect for research and analysis purposes, such as:

- Analyzing user behavior and preferences
- Identifying patterns and trends in our user base
- Improving our marketing and advertising efforts

Sharing of Information

We may share the information we collect with third parties for the following purposes:

- Providing our services, such as by sharing information with our partners and vendors
- Analyzing and improving our services, such as by sharing information with research firms and analytics providers
- Complying with legal requirements, such as by sharing information with government agencies or in response to a subpoena
- In case of a merger or acquisition, we may share the information with the new entity

We may disclose aggregated anonymized information about our users without restriction.

We may disclose personal information that we collect or you provide as described in this privacy policy:

- To our subsidiaries and affiliates.
- To contractors, service providers, and other third parties we use to support our business.
- To a buyer or other successor in the event of a merger, divestiture, restructuring, reorganization, dissolution, or other sale or transfer of some or all of Company's assets, whether as a going concern or as part of bankruptcy, liquidation, or similar proceeding, in which personal information held by Company about this Website's users is among the assets transferred.
- To fulfill the purpose for which you provide it.
- For any other purpose disclosed by us when you provide the information.
- With your consent.

We may also disclose your personal information:

- To comply with any court order, law, or legal process, including to respond to any government or regulatory request.
- To enforce or apply our terms of use, Website rules and other agreements.
- If we believe disclosure is necessary or appropriate to protect the rights, property, or safety of Company, our customers, or others. This includes exchanging information with other companies and organizations for the purposes of fraud protection and credit risk reduction.

Third-Party Access to Data

We may share the information we collect with third-party service providers, such as analytics tools, who assist us in providing our services and running our business. These third parties are not required to sign a confidentiality agreement and are only permitted to use the information we share with them for the purpose of providing the services we have contracted them for or to improve our services.

We may also share anonymized data with third-parties for analytical and research purposes, however this data will not include personal information that can be used to identify you.

We will take reasonable steps to ensure that the recipients of your information are using the information only for the purposes for which we disclose it to them and comply with the applicable laws and regulations.

Please note that we are not responsible for the privacy practices of any third-party websites or services that may be linked to or from our Website.

Data Collection, Use and Purpose

We collect the data for the following purposes:

- To provide and improve our services
- To personalize the user experience
- To communicate with the users
- To provide customer service
- To send periodic emails
- To comply with legal requirements

Notification of Changes/Updates

We may update this Privacy Policy from time to time. We will notify you of any changes by posting the new Privacy Policy on this page, and update the "Effective Date" at the top of the policy. We encourage our users to review this policy periodically to stay informed about how we are protecting the information we collect.

User Access to Personally Identifiable Information (PII)

Users can review and edit their personally identifiable information by logging into their account on our website if an account exists. Users can also contact us at legal@origins3.io for assistance in reviewing and editing their PII.

Handling "Do Not Track" Requests

We do not honor Do Not Track requests from our users. Even if a user's browser sends a Do Not Track request, we will continue to collect and track the user's browsing activity on our website or mobile application. This allows us to provide personalized services and improve the overall user experience on our website or mobile application. If you prefer not to be tracked, you can choose to disable cookies in your browser settings. However, please note that disabling cookies may affect your ability to use certain features of our website or mobile application.

Categories of Personally Identifiable Information Collected

We collect the following categories of personally identifiable information from our users:

- Contact information such as name, email address, and phone number
- Demographic information such as age, gender, and location
- Behavioral information such as browsing history and search queries
- Device and network information such as IP address and browser type
- Any other information provided by the user while availing our services

Your California Privacy Rights

California Civil Code Section § 1798.83 permits visitors to the Website that are California residents to request certain information regarding our disclosure of personal information to third parties for their direct marketing purposes. To make such a request, please send an email to legal@origins3.io.

The following disclosures are made pursuant to the California Consumer Privacy Act of 2018 ("CCPA") and identify the categories of personal information we have collected from California consumers related to this Website over the past twelve months, the categories of sources from which the information was collected, the business or commercial purpose for which the information was collected, and the categories of third parties with whom we shared that information are described below.

Categories of Personal Information Collected in Connection with this Website

- Internet and other network activity information, including online identifiers, such as your email address, mailing address and name.

Sources of Collection

- You.
- Any other individual you have authorized to provide us with your personal information.
- Devices you use to access this Website.

Business/Commercial Purpose for Collection

- To provide you with information or services that you request from us.
- To improve this Website and present its contents to you.
- To prevent, detect, and investigate fraud or other security incidents.

Categories of Third Parties Receiving Personal Information

- Affiliates.
- Technology services.

In the past twelve months, we have disclosed personal information collected through this Website for business or commercial purposes to our affiliates and technology service providers.

The categories of personal information we have disclosed to third parties for business or commercial purposes are:

- Internet activity information, including online identifiers, such as your email address, mailing address and name.

In the past twelve months, we have not sold personal information collected through this Website to third parties. California residents have the right to opt out of the sale of their personal information. Because we do not sell personal information, we do not offer an opt out.

Right to Know

California residents have the right to request that we disclose the categories and specific pieces of personal information we collected, used, and disclosed during the past twelve months, the categories of sources from which their personal information was collected, our business or commercial purposes for collecting their personal information, and the categories of third parties with whom we shared their personal information.

Right to Delete

California residents have the right to request deletion of the personal information we have collected from them.

Request Submission

You or your authorized agent can submit a request by emailing legal@origins3.io. You will need to provide us with personal information for us to match with information we have on file in order to verify your identity and residency. The personal information that we use to verify your identity and residency will not be used for any other purpose.

Right Against Discrimination

California residents have the right to not be discriminated against for exercising their rights under the CCPA. We do not discriminate against California residents who exercise their CCPA privacy rights.

Data Security

We use commercially reasonable measures to secure information collected through this Website. Unfortunately, the transmission of information via the internet is not completely secure. Although we do our best to protect your personal information, we cannot guarantee the security of your personal information transmitted to this Website. Any transmission of personal information is at your own risk. We are not responsible for circumvention of any privacy settings or security measures contained for this Website.

We retain your information for as long as needed: (i) to conduct business with you; (ii) as needed for the purposes outlined in this Privacy Policy; (iii) as necessary to comply with our legal obligations, resolve disputes, and enforce any agreements.

Effective Date

This policy is effective as of [insert date].
